Wakefield Beasley & Associates to Design Upscale Retail Facilities at Riverwood In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. – Wakefield Beasley & Associates Architects, Inc., the award winning Atlanta architectural firm was recently awarded the design for an upscale mixed-use retail project at Riverwood, located at the junction of SR 41 and Cumberland Boulevard in Atlanta. The development is a joint venture between Seven Oaks Company LLC and GE Asset Management.

Matt Mastin, Managing Principal at Wakefield Beasley & Associates, said Wakefield Beasley's project scope shall focus on site design concepts and architectural image development for both portions of the 22-acre development.

Schematic concepts for the mixed-use development include approximately 47,000 square feet of retail and class-A restaurant space located in two distinct, vertically integrated mixed-use structures supported by multi-level structured parking areas. The office components include 34,200 square feet of class-A space overlooking the main boulevard which weaves through the development.

The mixed-use commercial applications are complemented by 13 live/work lofts and 346 residential units located in two multi-level structures with private parking below. The residential towers will capture breathtaking views of the North Atlanta skyline.

Additional facilities planned for Riverwood include a hotel and class-A office building tower.
